

STATE OF ARKANSAS
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

PROCLAMATION

TO ALL TO WHOM THESE PRESENTS COME – GREETINGS:

WHEREAS: Since October 1998, the American Geosciences Institute has organized Earth Science Week on a national and international level to help the public gain a better understanding and appreciation for the Earth Sciences to encourage stewardship of the Earth; and

WHEREAS: This year's Earth Science Week will celebrate the theme "Earth as Inspiration". The theme emphasizes artistic expression as a unique, powerful opportunity for geoscience education to increase understanding by exploring the relationship between the arts and the Earth systems. It will promote public understanding and stewardship of the planet, especially in terms of the ways art relates to geoscience principles and diverse issues such as energy, climate change, the environment, natural disasters, technology, industry, agriculture, recreation, and the economy; and

WHEREAS: Earth Science Week's learning resources and activities are engaging young people and others in discovering Earth sciences, to remind people that Earth science is all around us, to encourage Earth stewardship through understanding, and to motivate geoscientists to share their knowledge and enthusiasm about the Earth; and

WHEREAS: The earth sciences are crucial to environmental and ecological issues that range from water-resource assessments and conservation to air quality and waste disposal; and

WHEREAS: Geologic factors surrounding resources, hazards, and the environment are vital to land-management and land-use decisions made in Arkansas; and

WHEREAS: The earth sciences are critical to ecosystem management, to our understanding of and respect for nature, and to Arkansas's continuing prosperity and well-being; and

WHEREAS: Knowledge of earth sciences provides the basis of preparing for and mitigating natural disasters, including floods, earthquakes, landslides, droughts, volcanic eruptions, coastal erosion, and sinkholes;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, ASA HUTCHINSON, Governor of the State of Arkansas, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the laws of the State of Arkansas, do hereby proclaim October 14th through October 20th, 2018, as

across the State, and I encourage my fellow citizens to recognize the vital role of the geosciences in our use of natural resources, in our interaction with the environment, as well as in our safety, health, economy, and welfare.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Arkansas to be affixed this 25th day of July, in the year of our Lord 2018.

Asa Hutchinson, Governor

Mark Martin, Secretary Of State
